A New Book by the author of "Uncle Remus."

ON THE PLANTATION.

By JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS. With numerous illustrations by E. W. Kemble. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

BRER RABBIT PREACHES.

The announcement of a new volume by Joel Chandler Harris will be welcomed by the host of readers who have found unlimited entertainment in the chronicles of "Uncle Remus." "On the Plantation" abounds in stirring incidents, and in it the author presents a graphic picture of certain phases of Southern life which have not appeared in his books before. There are also some new examples of the folk-lore of the negroes which become classic when presented to the public in the pages of "Uncle Remus."

This charming book has been elaborately illustrated by Mr. E. W. Kemble, whose thorough familiarity with Southern types is well known to the reading public. The book is uniform with "Uncle Remus," and contains in all twenty-three illustrations.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

AS certain statements have recently appeared in a New York newspaper which give the impression, and have created the belief in the minds of many persons, that the copyright on Mrs. Stowe's world-famous novel, "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN," has expired, or is non-existent, the undersigned hereby give notice that there is no foundation in fact for the assertions that have been made. Copyright was originally and duly issued to Mrs. Stowe ; it was duly reissued to her on the expiration of the first term of twenty-eight years, as is shown by the official certificates in our possession ; and it has still a considerable period to run. Mrs. Stowe's interest in the work continues without abatement, and she receives a royalty on every copy sold. Any attempt to reprint "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN" before the expiration of copyright will be illegal and an infringement on the rights of Mrs. Stowe and ourselves, and will be promptly prosecuted by us. The trade and public are hereby cautioned against buying any editions except those published by the undersigned, which are as follows :

Illustrated Holiday Edition. With 16 full-page Illustrations in Photogravure, by E. W. Kemble, Portraits of Mrs. Stowe, and about 130 pictures in the text. 2 vols., 16mo, $4.00.

Illustrated Red-Line Edition. With Introduction, Bibliography, and over 100 illustrations. 8vo, full gilt, $3.00.

Library Edition. Illustrated. 12mo, $1.50.

NOTES IN SEASON.

MACMILLAN & Co. have just published Marion Crawford's new novel, "The Three Fates," which has been running in serial form here and in England during the last year. The entire first edition of this book was disposed of on the day of publication.

DODD, MEAD & Co. have in preparation a new library edition, from new plates, of the novels of Anthony Trollope. The first instalment of twelve volumes will be issued under the general title of The Barchester Tower Series. Each volume will contain new engravings made expressly for this edition.

A. C. ARMSTRONG & SON have just issued a new volume in The Book Lovers' Library, entitled "Books Condemned to be Burnt," by James Anson Farrer. This work contains much out-of-the-way information concerning books more or less famous, and the causes of their being burned. An account of the authors and their friends is given, and their relationship to the governments and the churches which condemned their works. It is written in a readable style, and will be found interesting to readers generally, as well as most serviceable to students and collectors.

THE OFFICE OF THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY will issue next week "The Co-operative Index to Periodicals" for 1891. This volume is a complete index, in one alphabet, to about one hundred of the leading American and English magazines, edited by W. I. Fletcher, with the co-operation of members of the American Library Association. This volume is a continuation of Poole's important "Index to Periodical Literature" to 1887, the connecting links being the "Co-operative Index" issued by this office in quarterly parts for 1888 and 1889, and the annual volume for 1890.

THE F. A. DAVIS COMPANY, of Philadelphia, announce an authorized biography of the late D. Hayes Agnew, M.D., LL.D. The author, Dr. J. Howe Adams, has been for several years a member of Dr. Agnew's family, and is now actively engaged in the preparation of the work; he will have recourse to such sources of information as could only come from close acquaintance and familiarity with Dr. Agnew's private and professional life. Mrs. Agnew will aid in gathering the material for this biography of her distinguished husband. The work will be published in one royal octavo volume, bound in cloth and in half morocco, and will be fully illustrated with portraits and engravings.

As will be seen by an advertisement in another column, Messrs. Houghton, Mifflin & Co. call the attention of the trade and of the public to the fact that the copyright on "Uncle Tom's Cabin" has not expired, as was stated recently in a New York journal. It is easy to see how a statement like that made in the journal referred to, that the copyright had already expired, would be a very serious injury to the publishers by leading the trade to anticipate the immediate publication of editions of the famous story yet cheaper than those which they have just published. This announcement will reassure the trade, who will see that it is entirely safe for them to continue to handle the editions of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" of Houghton, Mifflin & Co. without any danger of being troubled by rival cheaper editions.

HARPER & BROS. will shortly publish "A Voyage of Discovery," by Hamilton Aidé, a novel presenting an Englishman's impressions of American life and society in New York, Boston and Newport. It is said to be partly the result of the author's observations during his recent American tour in company with Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Stanley. Their latest publications are: "A Capillary Crime, and other stories," by F. D. Millet; "Tales of a Time and Place," five dramatic stories by Grace King; a new volume of stories by Richard Harding Davis, entitled "Van Bibber and Others;" "Concerning All of Us," a collection of social, ethical and literary essays by Thomas Wentworth Higginson; "The Kansas Conflict," by ex-Governor Charles Robinson, which treats of the Slave-State and Free-State struggles of 1855-58; "The House Comfortable," a practical little volume on home furnishing and decoration, by Agnes Bailey Ormsbee, and "Everybody's Pocket Cyclopædia" of things worth knowing and difficult to remember. New and revised editions of Hardy's "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" and Black's "Princess of Thule" have been also issued.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p. in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no prices, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tt. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

Intended to provide a comprehensive, accurate and clearly written text-book, fully abreast of all recent developments in the principles and practice of the steam-engine. It comprises the principles and practice of the combustion of fuel, the economical generation of steam, the construction of steam-boilers, and the principles, construction and performance of steam-engines—stationary, portable, locomotive and marine, exemplified in engines and boilers of recent date. Besides the many figures in the text, there is a series of large plates of complete engines and boilers drawn to scale.

*Colbeck, Alfred. The fall of the Staincliffes. New cheaper ed. N. Y. and Chic., Fleming H. Revell Co., 1892. 200 p. 12°, cl., 75 c.; pap., 25 c.

Corelli, Marie, [pseud. for Minnie Mackay.] The soul of Lilith. N. Y., Lovell, Coryell & Co., [1892.] c. 4+356 p. D. (Lovell's copyright ser.) cl., $1.25.

El-Rami inherited from his father, Nadir Zaranos, a collection of valuable works on mystical lore of the Orient. Through this he gains insight to secrets of alchemy and physical magnetism; these are his agents in an experiment in which he tries to solve the problem of life and death. El-Rami's plan, however, is not successful until he recognizes his medium in a dead child; then he prevents bodily decay, arrests the flight of the soul and subjugates it to his purposes, of learning the dominant power of spirit over matter. The interest is in the supernatural results of the Oriental, which are obtained mostly in London.

Crawford, F. Marion. The three fates. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1892. c. '91. 4+412 p. D. cl., $1.

New York City is the scene. George Winton Wood,

* In this list, the titles generally are verbatim transcriptions (according to the rule of the American Library Association) from books received. Books not received are indicated by a prefixed asterisk, and this office cannot be held responsible for the correctness of their record.

who occupies the centre of interest throughout, was born rich and independent, but before his boyhood is past his father is ruined financially by an unprincipled relative. George was designed for a business life by his father, but he hates business, and early drifts into literature, first as a writer of reviews and finally as a writer of novels, which bring him fame. "The three fates" are three women whom he loves, or who love him, and who each exercises a strong influence on his career. The relative who had robbed his father makes unexpected reparation to the son.

Davis, R. Harding. Van Bibber, and others. N. Y., Harper, 1892. c. 4+249 p. il. D. cl., $1.

Van Bibber, one of New York's "four hundred," and a favorite creation of the author, is the hero of more than half of these fifteen stories. In "Her first appearance," where he rescues a lovely little girl from the degrading possibilities of a stage life, Van Bibber is serious and pathetic. "Van Bibber at the races," "Van Bibber's man-servant," "The hungry man fed," "An experiment in economy," etc., are full of humor, as are the majority of the stories, though occasionally, as in the first and last stories, "An unfinished story," the writer is on the verge of a tragedy. The scenes are mostly New York City, time and events being strongly in touch with the present.

Douglas, C. H. J. Financial history of Massachusetts; from the organization of the Massachusetts Bay Company to the American Revolution. N. Y., [Prof. Edwin R. A. Seligman, Columbia College, N. Y.] 1892. 2-148 p. O. (Studies in history, economics and public law, no. 4.) pap., 50 c.

Eastman, Edith V. Ethics of music: plain facts for students. Bost., Damrell & Upham, 1892. 77 p. D. cl., 75 c.

Four lectures delivered before the Philadelphia Musical Academy in the autumn and winter of 1891-92. Their subjects are: Art as affected by character; Legitimate uses of music; Character as affected by art; Fashion and taste in music.

English catalogue of books for 1891; a list of books published in Great Britain and Ireland in 1891; with their sizes, prices and publishers' names; also of the principal books published in the United States in one alphabet; with an index to subjects: a continuation of the London and British catalogues. N. Y., Office of the Publishers' Weekly, 1892. 128 p. O. pap., $1.50.

Everybody's pocket cyclopædia of things worth knowing, things difficult to remember and tables of reference. N. Y., Harper, 1892. c. 3+214 p. T. cl., 75 c.

This volume contains a wonderful variety of information on subjects of every-day inquiry; facts of historical, scientific and household interest; useful memoranda concerning commercial, architectural and medical topics; what everybody ought to know about love, marriage and etiquette; tables of weights and measures, and many other things necessary to have at one's command, yet difficult to remember—all classified and arranged for handy reference.

Farrer, Ja. Anson. Books condemned to be burnt. N. Y., A. C. Armstrong & Son, 1892. 10+199 p. S. (The book-lover's lib.) cl., $1.25.

Books that some public authority has condemned to the flames, either for their objectionable morality or their political or religious opinions, at different periods of the world's history, are the subjects of several chapters variously entitled: Sixteenth-century book-fires; Book-fires under James I.; Charles the First's book-fires; Book-fires of the rebellion, the restoration and the revolution; Our last book-fires. Some account is given of each book, of its author and the time in which it appeared.

Fowler, O. S. Amativeness; embracing the evils and remedies of excessive and perverted sexuality, including warning and advice to the married and single. New rev. ed. N. Y., Fowler & Wells Co., 1891 [1892.] 65 p. D. (Fowler & Wells lib., no. 6.) pap., 25 c.

*Goodfellow, J. The dietetic value of bread. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1892. 20+328 p. 12', cl., $1.50.

*Gower, Ronald, (Lord.) Last days of Marie Antoinette: an historical sketch. New ed. Bost., Roberts Bros., 1892. por. 12', cl., $1.50.

*Gradwell, Rev. —. Succat; or, sixty years of the life of St. Patrick. N. Y., Catholic Pub. Soc. Co., 1892. 305 p. 12', cl., net, $1.30.

Granville, Austyn. The shadow of shame. Chic., C. H. Sergel & Co., [1892.] c. '91. 345 p. D. (Sergel's International lib., v. 1, no. 14.) pap., 50 c.

On a series of incidents, many of which are said to be actual occurrences, is founded a novel of historic interests and dramatic and realistic effects. The story occurs mostly in Paris. A masked woman and anonymous letters are the agencies of a plot against Julie de Marguerites. Some of the action of the Franco-Prussian War is introduced, notably the Siege of Strassburg, the fighting before Metz and the bombardment of Paris. Bismarck is incidentally mentioned. The career of the heroine is said to be identical with that of one of the author's relatives, after whom he has named her.

Grimke, Archibald H. Life of Charles Sumner, the scholar in politics. N. Y., Funk & Wagnalls Co., 1892. c. 2-415 p. por. D. (American reformers ser.) cl., $1.50.

Sumner is considered intellectually as a defender of humanity, and chiefly as a political force of Abolition; as the history of the man is essentially that of the movement, important facts of an exciting epoch of American history are brought out in his career. The time covered is 1811-1874. Noted abolitionists are introduced.

Guernsey, W. Jefferson, M.D. Homœopathic therapeutics of hæmorrhoids. 2d ed. Phil., Boericke & Tafel, 1892. c. 142 p. D. cl., net, $1.

Guide to Latin conversation, by a father of The Society of Jesus; tr. from the French of the 7th ed. by Stephen W. Wilby. Balt., Md., J. Murphy & Co., 1892. c. 513 p. T. bds., net, $1.

A collection of useful words, a list of comparatives and of superlatives, the principal irregular verbs, familiar expressions and phrases, dialogues, sentences, tables of money, weights and measures, Latin abbreviations, Roman calendar, celebrated sayings from the Roman writers, and Latin quotations in common use. Designed as an elementary text-book with view of promoting Latin speech in the class-room.

Hannah, Annie L. Roy's opportunity, and how he improved it. N. Y., American Tract Soc., [1892.] c. 381 p. il. D. cl., $1.25.

Roy Western's overflow of animal spirits caused a broken leg, a course of medical treatment and a surgical operation. In these consequences Roy finds the opportunity that conveys a moral to both hero and reader.

Harris, Joel Chandler, ["Uncle Remus," pseud.] On the plantation: a story of a Georgia boy's adventures during the war; il. by E. W. Kemble. N. Y., Appleton, 1892. c. 8+233 p. por. D. cl., $1.50.

The author practically acknowledges this volume to be a sketch of his own early life. The adventures of Joe Maxwell begin with his first departure from home to a distant plantation, where a weekly paper, The Countryman, was printed, and where he was to learn the trade of a printer. Tracking runaways, hunting coons and listening to new "Brer Rabbit" stories from the negroes are among Joe's many pleasures. Scenes from the war close the book.

Harte, Fs. Bret. Colonel Starbottle's client and some other people. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1892. c. 2+283 p. D. cl., $1.25.

Contains, besides the title story, "The postmistress of Laurel Run," "A night at Hays," "Johnson's old woman," "The new assistant at Pine Clearing school," "In a pioneer restaurant," "A treasure of the Galleon," "Out of a pioneer's trunk," "The ghosts of Stukeley Castle."

*Helps, Sir Arthur. Life of Columbus, the discoverer of America. 10th ed. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1892. 16+262 p. 12°, cl., $1.75.

Her mistake: a novel. N. Y., G. W. Dillingham, 1892. c. 10-360 p. D. pap., 50 c.

Flora Valmore met and loved George Null, but refused to listen to his suit because some of his characteristics offended her. After this episode she entered the Convent of Santa Maria as a sister; later she regrets this step and escapes. The incidents of her life from this period make a romantic and somewhat sensational story.

Higginson, T. Wentworth. Concerning all of us. N. Y., Harper, 1892. c. 4+210 p. por. S. cl., $1.

Twenty-nine brief papers. The subjects are: The pillars of the republic; Good society and the best society; Ancestors who came after us; The liliputian theory of woman; Little social circles; The merely conventional; Easy lessons in caste; The theory of universal vulgarity; Feminine conquerors; The future of small country towns; On the transplantation of wealth; Domestic service in the millennium; One of Thackeray's women; The habit of prostration; English and American health, etc.

Horace, [Quintus Horatius Flaccus.] Odes and epodes; tr. into English verse, with introd., notes and Latin text, by J. B. Hague. N. Y., G. P. Putnam's Sons, 1892. c. 12+188 p. O. cl., $1.75.

Except in chronological arrangement, the order is that of the majority of editions. The translator has adopted a chronology which to him seems to have fewer objective points than some accepted methods. It is an object of this version to condense where it is possible to do so without omissions, as there is no equivalent in English for original lyrical verse. The translator has been free to select his metrical form.

*Hughes, Josiah. Questions and answers on United States history. Charleston, W. Va., R. W. Van Dale & Co., 1892. 16°, pap., 25 c.

*Hyndman, H. M. Commercial crises of the nineteenth century. N. Y., imported by C. Scribner's Sons, 1892. D. (Social science ser.) cl., $1.

*Illinois. Appellate cts. Reports of cases, v. 40; cont. cases in which opinions were filed in the 4th dist. in Aug. and Sept., 1891; in the 3d dist. in June and Sept., 1891; in the 1st dist. in Feb., March, April, May and June, 1891. Rep. by Edwin Burritt Smith. Chic., Callaghan & Co., 1892. c. 714 p. O. shp., $3.50.

*Jastrow, M., comp. A dictionary of the Targuinim, the Talmud Bibla and Yerushalmi, and the Madrashic literature. In 12 pts. Pts. 4-5. N. Y., G. P. Putnam's Sons, 1892. 4°, pap., subs., ea., $2.

*Jeffries, R. The dewy morn: a novel. New ed. N. Y., imported by C. Scribner's Sons, 1892. 8°, cl., $1.50.

King, Grace. Tales of a time and place. N. Y., Harper, 1892. c. 3+303 p. D. cl., $1.25.

Contents: Bayou L'ombre; Bonne Maman; Madrilène; or, the festival of the dead; The Christmas story of a little church; In the French quarter, 1870. All but the last story, which has its scene in Paris, are tales of the South, Louisiana chiefly, before and just after the war. They are rich in pathos and dramatic incidents.

*Lamb, C., ["Elia," pseud.] Essays of Elia and Eliana; with memoir by Barry Corn-

Presents a new and ingenious plan of the multiplication table, so simple and so attractive that it commends itself at sight. Great prominence is given to the products, and that these may be photographed, as it were, upon the mind, each one rests in large black figures upon a colored square—the artistic arrangement of the different shades making a charming effect on the tinted paper, which composes the pages of the book. The tables are further rendered interesting by a rhyme. These rhymes in themselves give a refining influence, for each one contains some idea; for instance: "6 x 6 are 36, a part of the flower is the calix." A gesture drill is also fully described.

Merriman, Effie W. Socials. Chic., C. H. Sergel & Co., [1892.] c. '91. 2-88 p. T. cl., 50 c.

The hero is a scout of the Union army, and his adventures as such, with a romantic love-affair and daring rescue, are a part of a plot to learn the movement of the Confederate army. Although the incidents are mainly fictitious, the action of troops, with dates supplied, are facts.

Mitchel, F. A. Chickamauga: a romance of the American civil war. N. Y., Star Book Co., [1892.] c. 5+298 p. D. (Chattanooga ser., no. 2.) cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

As this is a continuation of Chattanooga, Mark Maynard, the scout of that story, is the hero in some perilous incidents that occur mostly in Chickamauga and vicinity. The movement of both armies is correctly described, and the history is authentic.

Millet, F. D. A capillary crime, and other stories. N. Y., Harper, 1892. c. 2+284 p. il. D. cl., $1.25.

Contents: A capillary crime; A faded scapular; Yatil; Tedesco's Rubina; Medusa's head; The fourth waits; The bush.

Myers, Annie E. Home-dressmaking: a complete guide to household sewing. Chic., C. H. Sergel & Co., 1892. c. 3-377 p. il. D. full mor., subs., $2.75; vellum, $3.25.

With the purpose of showing women of limited means how to dress well, the author offers suggestions which relate to the art of dressmaking in particular, and sewing in general. In these there is advice as to material, directions for tools, rules for cutting and fitting, both by moulding and measurement, with separate chapters on special costumes and millinery.

Ormsbee, Agnes Bailey. The house comfortable. N. Y., Harper, 1892. c. 5+232 p. S. cl., $1.

In the "House comfortable," of which the author writes, "use comes before display, health before fashion, and adaptability to present and future circumstances is considered in the buying of all its belongings." The practical advice for furnishing all parts of the house is excellent. Approximate prices are given and details gone into for every article of furniture needed for the kitchen, bedrooms, parlor, dining-room, etc. A valuable little book for any one beginning housekeeping.

Parker, W. G. The information readers, no. 3, Man and materials. Bost., School Supply Co., 1892. c. 3-326 p. D. (Boston school ser.) cl., 60 c.

Parsons, Ja. Russell, jr. French schools through American eyes: a report to the New York State department of public instruction. Syracuse, N. Y., C. W. Bardeen, 1892. c. 136 p. 1 il. O. (School bulletin pub.) cl., $1.

This report, with paper on the French elementary school system, was prepared by the author of "Prussian schools through American eyes," at the request of A. S. Draper, New York State Superintendent of Public Instruction. The information it offers is the result of personal observation and a trip to France. Although the special subject is primary instruction in France, a comprehensive account of the entire educational system of that country is given. The statistical matter is likewise furnished by Mr. Parsons, ex-Consul at Aix La Chapelle, who was formerly School Commissioner in Rensselaer County, and is now Inspector of Teachers' Training Classes.

Robinson, C. The Kansas conflict. N. Y., Harper, 1892. c. 21+487 p. O. cl., $2.

Governor Robinson, known as "the war governor of Kansas," adds his valuable knowledge gained as an eyewitness of the early struggle in Kansas (1855-58) between the free-state and slave-state men as to the admission of slaves into the state, to the literature of the subject. The book was written, he says, for two reasons: "The first is the impertinency of persons who were actors or sympathizers in making a free state of Kansas, and the second, that no writer thus far has taken the view that seems to me the true one of the movements made by the free-state party, and of the causes and reasons for the same." The author aims to show that the state was saved to freedom by inside work.

Continues the life of the daughter of Louis XVI. The first scene is where she returns to Paris with her uncle, who becomes Louis XVIII.; after a brief reign the new king is driven from Paris by the news of Napoleon's escape from Elbe. The second restoration is marked by Louis XVIII.'s second return to Paris after the battle of Waterloo. The Duchess accompanies him, but is more austere, more sorrowful and more distrustful of her followers than ever before. Thus the reader leaves her, with the shadow of the vengeance of the new government upon the Imperialists darkening her life, and her popularity on the wane before the rising star, the young Duchess of Berry.

Saltus, Edgar. Imperial purple. Chic., Morrill, Higgins & Co., 1892. c. 4-234 p. D. cl., $1.25.

As the Roman senate accorded the title of imperator to the heirs of Julius, his assassination is considered as the passing of the republic and the foundation of imperial Rome. In the succession of the Cæsars, Augustus is seen as the first magistrate, Tiberius as the first citizen, Caligula as the first emperor, and so the entire line, which dies with Nero, is viewed in the light of individual and dominant vices and virtues and as contributors to Rome's greatness. Her downfall is traced in Commodus' reign. The condition of Rome during five centuries of glory is shown.

United States (State Department.) Bureau of American Republics, Bulletin, no. 31, Handbook of the American Republics. Costa Rica. Wash., D. C., Government Printing Office, 1892. 4+146 p. maps, por. il. Q. n. p.

An introductory chapter presents a brief historical sketch of the republic. This is followed by a presentation of physical features, mineral resources and mining laws, agricultural products, constitutional laws, transportation and postal facilities, and its immigration. There are historical and bibliographical notes, and an appendix gives the exports of the country.

*Vermont. Supreme ct. Reports of cases, by C. A. Prouty. V. 63, new ser., v. 3. [1891.] Burlington, Free Press Ass'n, 1892. c. 17+724 p. O. shp., $4.

Vickers, Rob. H. Martyrdoms of literature. Chic., C: H. Sergel & Co., [1892.] c. '91. 21+451 p. O. hf. leath., $2.50.

The aim is to record the history in detail, of destructions through hostility, or lack of appreciation, of valuable collections of the literature of all countries and early ages. As far as possible chronological order is observed. The series are arranged to show to advantage the periods presented. Where the experiences of countries connect, sectional arrangement is differentiated.

Watson, Augusta Campbell. The old harbor town: a novel. N. Y., G: W. Dillingham, 1892. c. 4-275 p. 1 il. D. pap., 50 c.

The scene is New London, Connecticut, during the struggle for American independence. Incidents of the stirring time are interwoven with the quaint personal histories of Letty Chester and Love Mainwaring, and there is a plot in which a British as well as a Colonial hero figures, and a young girl is effectively seen as heroine and a victim of war. Benedict Arnold is incidentally mentioned.

Whitman, Walt. Select d poems. N. Y., C: L. Webster & Co., 1892. c. '55-'92. 4-179 p. por. S. (Fiction, fact and fancy ser.) cl., 75 c.

The editor, Mr. Arthur Stedman, says in his preface to this volume of Whitman's poems: "My intention has been to offer, in a conventional form, those of his poems which are held to be most nearly in harmony with the poetic era (though really they have a character quite apart from it), and to add selections from his more distinctive chantings. With the choice and arrangement of the poems Mr. Whitman has had nothing to do, save in the most general way of approval. I sincerely believe this little collection will be a revelation even to those who know their Whitman."

Wyndham, Julian. Theo Waddington: a novel. Bost., United Pub. Co., 3 Somerset st., 1892. c. 3-292 p. D. (Carlyle bi-monthly ser.) pap., 50 c.

Theo Waddington, a rather opinionated girl, is ostensibly one of the author's means of conveying religious theories. She is introduced at thirteen, constantly warring with the conservative religion of her father, who learns of his daughter's unorthodox proclivities, combats them, and succeeds in converting Theo to his way of belief. There seems to be likewise intent in the action of Horace Rushmore, who meets Miss Waddington in New York, and although opposed to her Puritanism, succumbs to fate and marries her.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

APRIL 16, 1892.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or our advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the WEEKLY solely for their information. The next important reason is that the Record of New Publications of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY forms the basis of "The American Catalogue" and so the basis of all trade bibliography in the United States.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE PROPOSED REDUCTION ON FOURTH-CLASS MATTER.

CONSIDERABLE opposition has been elicited from men well known in the postal service to the bill now before the House Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads, which provides for the merging of the third and fourth classes of mail matter, and their transportation at the uniform rate of one cent for every two ounces. This bill is of importance, not only to merchants interested in the transportation of small merchandise, but from the fact that it involves delicate questions as to the aims and policy of the Postal Department of the Government. Under the present law third-class matter consists of books, pamphlets, circulars and other similar matter wholly or partially in print; while fourth-class matter—on which the present rate is 1 cent an ounce—embraces merchandise, samples and goods of all descriptions. The limit of weight on a package of either third or fourth class matter is four pounds.

Those in favor of the merging of these two classes of mail matter quote the example of the English and other European governments which have included transportation of many kinds of merchandise in their cheap postal service; but the difference in the distances to be traversed, and the contrast between the American and European spirit of government, render this example of less immediate value than would otherwise be the case.

There are numerous objections to the bill, the most valid and general of which was clearly stated in 1875 by George S. Bangs, then General Superintendent of the Railway Mail Service, whose opinion holds good to-day. He said: "By reference to the tabular statement it will be seen that the only matter which pays a profit to the government is that of the first class—written correspondence. There is here an annual profit of more than $4,000,000. But on regular newspapers and periodicals the loss is nearly $7,000,000, and on miscellaneous matter more than $4,000,000. Now I presume that it will be agreed that the 'privileged matter' of the mails ought to be that which pays the best. This is but common business sense. Next in point of favor is that which does most for the dissemination of intelligence. This on account of the public good. It is worth while, it is often sound political wisdom, to pay a tax for the promotion of a great public good. We have, then, properly and logically, as 'privileged matter' of the mails, all private correspondence and all publications—newspapers and periodicals—which treat of the events, opinions and ideas of the times. No one will dispute that the mails ought to carry these as cheaply as possible. I believe it is but common sense that right there the line should be drawn, and that articles outside of those embraced in written correspondence and publications pertaining to current events should, as near as practicable, pay their own way in the mails of the United States."

This is direct and to the point, and it is on this principle that the bill is condemned by many experienced in the postal service, who strongly believe in the unwisdom of requiring the government to become a carrier of general merchandise. There is little doubt but that the probable effects of the bill on the postal revenues and the mail service will be carefully considered, and whether this measure becomes a law or not, the more these questions are brought to public attention, and subjected to general discussion, the sooner will we have efficient and worthy reforms in the departments of the government.

SUBSCRIBERS to the "English Catalogue" for 1891 will be interested to learn that we have just received that work and are shipping the copies already ordered as rapidly as possible. Those who have ordered the "Annual American Catalogue" for 1891 and the "English Catalogue" bound together, may expect their copies late next week. Only a few copies remain unsold, and as probably no more can be had after the present supply is exhausted, those who desire a copy must apply at once.

BOOKSELLERS' ASSOCIATIONS.

NORTHWESTERN BOOKSELLERS AND NEWS-DEALERS' ASSOCIATION.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., April 5, 1892.

To the Book Trade:

THE above-named association was organized at St. Paul, Nov. 24, 1891. The object of same is "social, educational and protective." To bring the members of the book and news trade into closer and more pleasant relations.

There are several such organizations throughout the United States, and it is our desire to have a national association, and the "Northwestern" is not the smallest or weakest. It is not necessary to state the advantages of such an association; every intelligent dealer can appreciate that point, and, we hope, will send the admission fee of $1.00 at once to Alex. McNie, Treasurer of the Northwestern Booksellers and Newsdealers' Association, Winona, Minn., who will send receipt and by laws, bulletins and other information as fast as issued.

In making your application for membership, please answer the following questions:

Are you a bookseller or newsdealer?

Do you make this or some other line of business your specialty?

What is the worst grievance you have to contend with?

If you do not wish to join us, why?

An immediate answer will oblige,

Yours fraternally,

C. S. CRABTREE, Secretary, 235 Nicollet Ave.

BOOK TRADE COMMITTEE OF THE GRANT MONUMENT ASSOCIATION.

THE members of the book trade met with representatives of other trades at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York, on the evening of the 12th, for the purpose of conferring and advising with the officers of the Grant Monument Association in regard to the inauguration of a comprehensive plan for the prompt and vigorous prosecution of the work of constructing General Grant's tomb. The following were the committees appointed for:

Publishers of Books and Periodicals, and Importers and Dealers in Books.—W. W. Appleton, Chairman; George Haven Putnam, Secretary; James Thorn Harper, Treasurer; Richard Watson Gilder, John B. Walker, Henry T. Thomas, E. Steiger, Patrick Farrelly, Robert Howard Russell, Fred J. Hall, John W. Lovell, A. S. Barnes & Co., Cassell Publishing Company, F. H. Hooper, W. L. Harden, Charles N. Taintor, D. B. Ivson, F. H. Dodd, Frederick A. Stokes, C. T. Dillingham, N. Taylor, Jr., Sheldon & Co. and Aug. Brentano.

Educational and Scientific Papers.—E. L. Kellogg, Chairman; James A. Robinson, E. A. Baker, E. J. Lewis, Bemis Publishing Company, V. MacRae, E. Scott-Browne and E. B. Treat.

Trade Papers.—David Williams, Chairman; Howard Lockwood, William Wood & Co., M. T. Richardson, Brewers' Journal, F. E. Saward, George Whittemore & Co., William O. Allison, The Dry Goods Economist, Engineering News Publishing Co., Frederick Stalknecht, Andrew Geyer, Hub Publishing Co., Thomas M. Mackay, Henri Gerard, George P. Rowell, Richard R. Bowker, of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, Munn & Co., Isaac H. Bailey, Tobacco Leaf Publishing Co., W. J. Johnston and Clucas Publishing Co.

News Companies.—D. Cooley, of the American News Company.

TYPOTHETÆ ANNUAL MEETING.

THE annual meeting of the New York Typothetæ was held on the afternoon of the 12th inst., at the society's headquarters, No. 19 Park Row. Officers were elected as follows: President, Theodore L. De Vinne; Vice-Presidents, Douglas Taylor and William Charles Rogers; Secretary, E. Parke Coby; Assistant Secretary, W. W. Pasko; Treasurer, Horace G. Polhemus. Executive Committee, Henry Bessey, James A. Rogers, J. W. Pratt and J. Faulkner.

The report of the Treasurer shows that the finances of the society are in excellent condition. The Secretary's report says that the condition of the trade during the year just passed was one of prosperity. There have been no local disturbances, except among the feeders. Throughout the United States the condition of the trade has been characterized by quietness. The membership has been materially increased.

The society has received from Peter S. Hoe a magnificent marble bust of R. M. Hoe, the great press manufacturer. A large number of valuable books have also been contributed, and the Typothetæ to-day is said to have one of the largest and best collections of books on typography in the world. During the year the society was favored with a bequest of $500 in the will of William C. Martin.

While the meeting was in progress the Secretary presented a certificate of incorporation from the office of the Secretary of State at Albany. As the Typothetæ to-day is without cohesive legal power, it will be reorganized shortly under this certificate of incorporation. After the meeting lunch was served.

SCENES FROM AMERICAN FICTION.

AMERICAN FICTION, represented in a series of stage pictures from the best authors, forms the basis of the original and interesting entertainment to be given by the members of the "Drawing-Room" in the Metropolitan Opera House on Easter Monday evening, April 18. The stage will represent scenes from Longfellow, and the series of tableaux include "Leatherstocking Tales;" "The Scarlet Letter;" "The Knickerbockers," from Irving; the ball scene from "Old Town Folks;" "The Luck of Roaring Camp;" "The Lady or the Tiger?;" the trial scene from "The Graysons;" "Annie Kilburn;" and "A Little Journey in the World," from Charles Dudley Warner. The final picture will be "The Apotheosis of the Republic." The intermissions will be filled in with music and a series of portraits illustrating well-known writings, among which will be "Dorothy Q.," by O. W. Holmes; "Behold a Woman," Walt Whitman; "Huckleberry Finn," Mark Twain; "Uncle Remus," J. C. Harris; "An Artist's Creation," T. W. Higginson; "Marjorie Daw," T. B. Aldrich; "Daisy Miller," Henry James; "The Courtin'," J. R. Lowell; "The Witch's Daughter," Whittier; "Sella's Fairy Slippers," W. C. Bryant, and "Proud Miss McBride," by J. G. Saxe. The tableaux and portraits have been arranged by well-known artists, and there will be a Colonial minuet, with historically correct costumes, planned by Percy Moran.

COMMUNICATIONS.

HOW TO DISPOSE OF UNSALABLE STOCK.

OMAHA, NEB., April 7, 1892.

To the Editor of The Publishers' Weekly:

DEAR SIR: Referring to the communication of Mr. Chas. A. Burkhardt, in last issue of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY (April 2), respecting the disposal of unsalable stock, I would suggest that you open an "Exchange Column" in your journal, which should be devoted entirely to the exchange of books between dealers, charging a nominal price for the insertion of such announcements, and in this manner, I think, a satisfactory solution would be found of the problem of "how to dispose of overstock."

Yours truly,

S. SHONFELD.

[THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is ready, for the present, to insert advertisements of "Books for Exchange" at the rate of ten cents per line.—ED. P. W.]

OBITUARY NOTES.

JOHN CALVIN MOSS, inventor of the first practicable photo-engraving process and head of the Moss Engraving Company, died on the 8th inst., at his home, Fifty-fourth Street and Fourth Avenue, South Brooklyn, N. Y. He was born in 1836 in Washington County, Pa., and was early intended by his parents for the ministry. But he felt no inclination in that direction, and at the age of seventeen entered a printing office in Philadelphia, devoting much of his time to the study of fine arts. When barely nineteen he married Miss Mary A. Bryant, who worked with him in his experiments, and to whose aid he attributed much of his success. In 1858 he became a photographer, experimenting in photographic chemistry and studying the processes of Daguerre and his predecessors. Following the attempt of Prof. Grove to etch on a Daguerrean plate by means of electricity, he made a galvanic battery and entered into experiments which resulted in the discovery of his photo-engraving process. Realizing the value of the invention, in 1863 Mr. Moss and his wife came to New York, and for eight years had a hard struggle, getting a few orders, but meeting active opposition from the wood-engravers, who feared the new process would destroy their trade. In 1871 Moss organized the Actinic Company, which was dissolved the following year. With the aid of a friend he established the Photo-Engraving Company in 1873. This was successful, and in 1880 Mr. Moss left this company and organized the present Moss Engraving Company. His wife is still living, and he leaves one son.

FRANC B. WILKIE, a Western journalist and one of the old-time war correspondents, died last night at his home in Norwood Park, Ill., from paralysis of the brain. He was born in Connecticut sixty years ago, but had lived most of his life in the West. Of late years he had devoted his time to writing novels and journalistic experiences. He published under the pseudonym of "Poliuto" the following: "Personal Reminiscences of Thirty-Five Years of Journalism" (Schulte & Co.), "Pen and Powder" (Ticknor & Co.), "Great Inventions" (J. A. Ruth & Co.) and "The Gambler" (T. S. Denison).

JOHN R. SUTER, who died suddenly of heart disease on Saturday night, April 9, at 296 Flatbush Avenue, was one of the representative newsdealers in Brooklyn, N. Y. He was born in London forty-six years ago, and had been serving newspapers since his arrival in this country, over twenty-five years ago. He was one of the organizers of the Brooklyn Newsdealers' Protective Association and the founder of the Newsdealer and Stationer.

BRIGADIER-GENERAL THOMAS WILLIAM SWEENEY, who died on the 10th inst., began his career as apprentice in the publishing house of Alfred Pell & Co., of New York, in 1837.

DR. AARON P. MILLER, a well-known journalist, died on the 9th inst., at the age of sixty-five. His latest engagement was with the Cassell Publishing Company, and this was just ended a short time before he was attacked with his fatal illness.

WORLD'S FAIR NOTES.

INTENDING exhibitors at the Exposition can get the general rules and regulations for exhibitors, and the special regulations pertaining to exhibits in the department or departments in which they may be particularly interested, by addressing Director-General Davis.

THE Columbian Fair Committee has received blank applications for space at the fair, and members of the trade who desire their applications to go through the committee can secure the necessary blanks from A. C. Barnes, the chairman. No goods will be received until after the dedication services on October 12, 1892, and all exhibits must be in place by April 10, 1893. All space not occupied by April 1, 1893, will be reverted to the Director-General for assignment.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

DR. HENRY BRANN, rector of the Church of St. Agnes, East 43d Street, New York, will shortly publish a life of the famous Archbishop Hughes. It is one of a series treating of men who helped to build this nation.

EDWARD L. PIERCE has just finished his biography of Charles Sumner, the concluding volumes of which are now in press. Volumes I. and II. were published in 1877, and brought the biography down to July, 1845.

EDWARD EVERETT HALE will be seventy years old on the 18th of April. The event will be celebrated by a dinner given in his honor at the Hotel Vendôme by prominent Bostonians, including Oliver Wendell Holmes and Phillips Brooks.

THE will of the late Walt Whitman was admitted to probate on the 7th inst. The poet's entire estate, exclusive of royalties from his writings, amounts to about $3500. Of this sum $2000 is in cash, and the house and lot on Mickle Street, where he lived, is assessed at $1500. To relatives and friends Whitman bequeathed $2870, and the balance of his estate to his brother, Edward L. Whitman. An effort is to be made to raise by popular subscription a sufficient sum to preserve Whitman's residence intact, so that his home will be always open to his admirers who visit this city. Horace L. Traubel, one of the literary executors of Walt Whitman, found among his manuscripts a poem on the landing of Columbus, which is said to possess much literary value. It will be offered to the managers of the World's Columbian Exhibition.

BUSINESS NOTES.

ANSONIA, CONN.—James Mansfield has purchased the stock of stationery formerly owned by Flahaven, and will increase it and add a line of school-books also.

CHICAGO, ILL.—The S. B. Bradt Company, proprietors of Cobb's Library, formerly at 91 and 93 Wabash Avenue, have removed to 132 Wabash Avenue. Mr. P. M. Wolsieffer has recently associated himself with the S. B. Bradt Company, which has added a full line of sheet music to the business, also music publishing.

CLARE, MICH.—Wm. H. Elden, bookseller, has changed style of firm to Elden & Halbrook.

CONCORD, N. H.—Temple & Farrington, booksellers and stationers, have moved into their new six-story building, the whole of which they will occupy.

CUMBERLAND, MD.—Harry K. Duke will open a book and stationery store here at once.

DES MOINES, IA.—W. C. Mentzer, bookseller, has changed the style of his firm to Mentzer & Samuels.

EVERETT, WASH.—H. S. Baker, for a long time with J. H. Calvert & Co., of Seattle, has opened a book, stationery and news store at this place.

GREENVILLE, MISS.—Wortham & Griffin, dealers in books and stationery, Greenville, Miss., have made a general assignment for the benefit of all their creditors. The assets of the firm are said to exceed the liabilities. R. D. Street was named assignee.

LAWRENCE, KAN.—The Lawrence Book Company has been incorporated at Lawrence, Kan. The incorporators are: Geo. Y. Johnson, W. F. Marsh, H. E. Benson, Geo. E. Little and Barclay Thomas.

LYNCHBURG, VA.—D. B. Payne, bookseller and stationer, has made an assignment to R. Irving Scott. The total amount of liabilities is said to be about $12,000. Nearly all of the prominent publishers and stationers were caught for small amounts. It is provided in the deed that the trustee shall dispose of the stock within six months, unless otherwise directed by the creditors.

MACOMB, ILL.—Sanborn & Tate, booksellers, have sold out.

MOBILE, ALA.—W. J. McGuire Co., booksellers, have offered their creditors 35 cents on the dollar, which has been accepted.

MONTEVIDEO, MINN.—A. L. Eldred, bookseller, has been succeeded by John Austin.

NEW YORK CITY.—Ward, Lock, Bowden & Co. will remove on May 1 to 15 East 12th Street.

NEW YORK CITY.—Mr. Wentworth, of the Catholic Publication Society Company, has resigned his office as President. It is rumored that other changes will take place soon.

NEW YORK CITY.—Henry Blackwell, who for the past fourteen and a half years had the entire charge of the fine binding department under the management of R. W. Smith, of the Trow Company, has succeeded to the business established by Otto Wigand & Son, and will continue it at University Place, corner of Tenth Street.

NEW YORK CITY.—The firm of G. P. Putnam's Sons, founded in 1841, has now been incorporated under the laws of the State of New York. The ownership of the shares of the corporation rests entirely with the members of the family. The capital stock has been fixed at $400,000, of which $200,000 is in the shape of shares and $200,000 in six per cent. bonds. The President of the company is Geo. Haven Putnam, the Treasurer, J. Bishop Putnam, and the Secretary, Irving Putnam. The corporation takes over all the business of the publishing concern, of its retail department, and of its London house. The manufacturing department had previously been incorporated under the title of the Knickerbocker Press. The work of this department will, after the 15th of May, be carried on in its new building at New Rochelle. Of the Knickerbocker Press, also incorporated under the laws of the State of New York, J. Bishop Putnam is President, and Mr. Charles A. Todd Treasurer. The capital stock of this corporation is $125,000.

SPRINGFIELD, O.—The plant of the Winters Art Lithograph Company, of Chicago, in this city, caught fire after midnight April 11, with prospects of being a total loss. The company's plant was one of the largest in the West, and it had published all the lithographic World's Fair advertisements. It is understood that a large stock of lithographs of the various halls and other buildings of the World's Fair was in the establishment, as well as a stock of the official lithographing of the World's Fair. The bulk of the lithographs had been shipped to Chicago, so that the advertising of the Fair will not suffer much. The buildings were filled with the latest presses, costing many thousand dollars each, and with lithographic plates which cannot be replaced except at great expense. The loss cannot be estimated, as President Charles Winters is out of town. The plant is fully insured.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

The American Periodical Index, of New Haven, Conn., has removed to 834 Broadway, New York, and changed its title to The Index-Review.

THE TRADDLES CO., Cincinnati, have issued the first number of a small four-page monthly paper, True Democracy, containing political articles, humorous and advertising miscellany.

THE May number of the Baltimore No Name Magazine will contain an important article on "How to Live a Hundred Years." The American studio described will be that of Edmund V. Valentine, the famous Virginia sculptor. The short story will be "Spanish Grant No. 1113," an Acadian story, by Junius L. Hempstead, of Louisiana. The literary article will be "The Hero of Modern Fiction," and the social article, "An American Girl of the Period."

Food, issued by the Clover Publishing Co., 71 Park Place, New York, is a monthly magazine of about sixty-five pages, devoted to hygienic cooking, the dainty serving of food and useful miscellany for housekeepers and dinner givers. The first number contains articles on entertaining, by Mrs. Sherwood and Ward McAllister; on hygienic living, by Drs. Taylor and Hammond; a variety of practical recipes, bright household chat, hints and suggestions. It is attractively illustrated, printed on fine paper, and tastefully arranged.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

WORTHINGTON Co. announce as the latest issue in their Rose Library, "Felix Lanzberg's Expiation," by Ossip Schubin.

It is rumored that a cheap Teacher's Bible is to be placed on the American market this fall by Wm. Collins, Son & Co., of Glasgow.

RAND, McNALLY & Co. will shortly publish in their Globe Library an emotional love-story by E. M. Davy, entitled "A Daughter of Earth."

GEORGE W. SMALL & Co., Cincinnati, O. (P. O. box 696), have in press a book of formulas for making all kinds of printing inks and varnishes, as well as copying, cancelling and artists' indestructible inks.

W. JAMES & Co., 264 South High Street, Columbus, O., will publish shortly a blank subscription-book for the use of newsdealers and publishers. It is ruled so as to keep a perfect record for a number of years.

LOVELL, CORYELL & Co. call the attention of the trade to the fact that the price of Marie Corelli's new novel, "The Soul of Lilith," is $1.25, and not $1, as it appeared inadvertently in their advertisement of March 26 in THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY and elsewhere.

APROPOS of the report that John L. Sullivan is at work on his memoirs, some one suggests the following as a motto:

"The seventieth round was ended;
He fell with a terrible cry.
I looked him over closely,
But I couldn't see no eye."

THE publishing house connected with the Paulists Parish in West Fifty-ninth Street, New York, is proving too small for the work done in it. Among other books recently published from its press, a little book by Father Deshon, a classmate of General Grant, has reached its thirtieth edition.

LONGMANS, GREEN & Co., will publish on the 29th H. Rider Haggard's new story, "Nada the Lily," an account of the early life of that doughty fighter, "Umslopogaas," who figured so prominently in "She" and "Allan Quatermain." They also announce Mrs. Walford's new story, "The One Good Guest."

MORRILL, HIGGINS & Co., 109-111 Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill., have just issued a new book by Edgar Saltus, entitled "Imperial Purple," an analysis of the Cæsars, from the conqueror of Gaul and invader of Britain down to Helio-gabalus, "child of the sun." Messrs. Morrill, Higgins & Co. carry on their list the trade books formerly issued by the Belford, Clarke Co.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS have just ready a new book by Dr. Charles A. Briggs, entitled "The Bible, the Church and the Reason," which aims principally to define his position with regard to the validity of the Church and the Reason as sources of divine authority. They have also just issued a volume of popular stories by George A. Hibbard, entitled "The Governor."

LEE & SHEPARD have just published a "Hand-book of School Gymnastics," by Baron Nils Possé, being a condensation of the author's previous exhaustive work, "The Swedish System of Educational Gymnastics." This useful little manual explains the fundamental principles of the system, contains one hundred progressive tables of exercises, numerous diagrams, and much good advice for teachers. To their Good Company Series they have added "Tatters," a story by "Beulah."

WILBUR B. KETCHAM, New York, has purchased the entire stock of Bromfield & Co., and will hereafter issue all the publications of this house. Among the most notable are Beecher's "Life of Christ," in two volumes; "Biography of Henry Ward Beecher," "American Christian Rulers;" "The Pastor's Pocket Manual for Funerals," etc. The purchase also includes many of the juvenile publications of Sampson Low, Marston and Co., of London, of whom Bromfield & Co. were the New York agents. Catalogues will be sent on application.

FLEMING H. REVELL Co. announce an authorized American reprint of a collection of papers, entitled "Living Papers on Present-Day Themes," in ten volumes, covering sixty topics on Christian Evidences, Doctrines and Morals. The publishers imported and introduced the English edition only a few months since (issued under the title of "Present-Day Tracts," by the London Religious Tract Society). They also announce that "The Fall of the Staincliffes," a prize tale on gambling, has been reduced to 75 cents, and that a paper edition at 25 cents will be published shortly.

G. HEDELER, the enterprising publisher of Leipzig, has issued a useful work in the German language, entitled "Zoll-Vademecum für Buch und Papier gewerbe, sowie die damit zusammenhängenden Industriezweige" (a tariff vade-mecum for the book, paper and allied trades). The volume presents the latest import tariffs and customs regulations of every country in the world, alphabetically arranged. For those engaged in foreign trade, and conversant with the German language, Mr. Hedeler's work will be found a convenient, reliable and therefore exceedingly valuable manual. (204 p. 8°, pap., 5 marks.)

P. F. COLLIER has replied in a communication to the New York Tribune to George W. Smalley's criticisms which appeared in several of his recent letters to that paper. Mr. Collier states that the advertisement to which Mr. Smalley referred was published by him in good faith; that he does not issue books in newspaper form as stated, but publishes paper-bound novels or books at the rate of 200,000 a week; and he repeats his offer to take a satisfactory English book, copyright it, pay for it, and guarantee the author an edition of 200,000. Finally, he states that he has been in correspondence with the Society of British Authors, has received their approval, and offers to deal with British authors through the incorporated society only.

THERE will shortly be published in Philadelphia a modest volume of poetry of 250 pages, under the title, "The Secret in the Marshes, and other poems," which, according to E. W. Bok, has for its author perhaps one of the most unique figures in the literary world. "He is Daniel L. Dawson, familiarly known to all his friends as 'Dan Dawson, the Pugilist Poet.' Mr. Dawson is unique in all which that term implies. In his exterior personality he is as untidy a man as one could meet, both as regards his person and his dress. His speech and manner are as blustering as the wildest March day. He is tenacious to irritation by disposition. His commercial following lies in the direction of an iron foundry. His hobby is boxing, and he is considered one of the cleverest boxers outside of the profession. His friendships are among the men of the stage and of the 'ring.' To Mr. Dawson's credit it should be said, however, that his interest in pugilistic matters is entirely from a scientific standpoint. He is an athlete by nature and in physique."

At the last monthly meeting of the Papyrus Club, of Chicago, Mr. Ed. Ackermann read a paper on the "Organization of the German Book Trade," which we hope to print in an early issue of the WEEKLY. Mr. Ackermann is one of the founders of the Papyrus Club, which was formed last year by a number of booksellers, publishers, authors and artists, with the object of furthering the interests of Chicago as a literary centre and promoting a closer co-operation between all connected with the book trade. In his address, Mr. Ackermann pointed out the high standard of the German bookseller, the high educational mission of the business when rightly considered, the necessity of raising the American book trade to the highest standpoint, and the great value of clubs and associations as a means of better general education for book clerks in the lines of their trade. In advocating the establishment of Chicago as a literary centre he suggested that this might be accomplished by instituting a booksellers' and publishers' clearing-house in that city, with the co-operation of the general bookselling and publishing trade of the United States. The meeting was held in the club-rooms in the Auditorium Building, to which Mr. Ackermann presented two fine coats of arms of the book trade.

THE CASSELL PUBLISHING Co. will shortly publish Mrs. Fanny Field Hering's life of Gérôme in a large folio, illustrated with ninety-five photo-gravures and photo-etchings. Mrs. Hering has been four years preparing the work, and has had the personal assistance of Gérôme, who has supplied a preface and given extracts from his letters and journals. There will be an introduction by Augustus St. Gaudens, and extracts from numerous critics from Baudelaire and Gautier to Hamerton and Mrs. Stranahan. In the line of fiction The Cassell Publishing Co. announce several new books which promise well. These are: "M Marionettes," the latest novel of Julien Gorden, dealing with fashionable life in New York and Paris; "Out of the Fashion," by Mrs. L. T. Meade, the story of how four sisters, suddenly thrown on their own resources in London, made their way uphill to success; "Sybil Knox, or, home again," a new book by Edward Everett Hale, and "The Fate of Fenella." The latter novel is a unique departure in collaboration, being the work of twenty-four well-known authors, each of whom has written one chapter. The authors are: Helen Mathers, Justin McCarthy, Frances Eleanor Trollope, Conan Doyle, May Crommelin, F. C. Phillips, "Rita," Joseph Hatton, Mrs. Lovett Cameron, Bram Stoker, Florence Marryat, "Tasma," Frank Danby, Mrs. Kennard, Richard Dowling, Mrs. Hungerford, Arthur A'Beckett, Jean Middlemass, Clement Scott, Clo. Graves, H. W. Lucy, Adeline Sargeant, G. Manville Fenn and F. Anstey. There was no consultation among the authors, and each and all were equally ignorant of the developments of the plot, so that whatever the merit of the story, it will at least be a literary curiosity.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," subscribers only are entitled to a free insertion of five lines for books out of print, exclusive of address (in any issue except special numbers), to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents per line, and amount should be enclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents per line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

Under the heading "Situations Wanted," subscribers are entitled to one free insertion of five lines. For repeated matter and advertisements of non-subscribers the charge is 10 cents per line.

All other small advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents per line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

Parties desiring to receive answers to their advertisements through this office must either call for them or enclose postage stamps with their orders for the insertion of such advertisements. In all cases we must have the full address of advertisers as a guarantee of good faith.

Houses that are willing to deal only on a cash-on-delivery basis, will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

A NEW AND TIMELY HANDBOOK.A B C of the Swedish System of Educational Gymnastics.

By HARTVIG NISSEN,

Instructor of Physical Training in the Public Schools of Boston, Mass.; Instructor of Swedish and German Gymnastics at Harvard University's Summer School, 1891.; Author of "A Manual on Swedish Movement and Massage Treatment," etc.

A Practical Handbook for School-Teachers and the Home.This handy volume is everywhere spoken of as the best book on the subject now in the market. All dealers near schools where Physical Training is given should have it in stock.*

The fullest instructions and commands are given for each exercise, and seventy-seven excellent engravings illustrate them and add greatly to the practical value of the book. Small 12mo, 143 pages, extra flexible cloth, 75 cents, net.

A BOOK OF SURPASSING INTEREST IS

THE CHINESE:*Their Present and Future; Medical Political and Social.

By ROBERT COLTMAN, Jr., M.D.,

Surgeon in Charge of the Presbyterian Hospital and Dispensary at Teng Chow Fu.

The author has spent many years among the Chinese; lived with them in their dwellings; thoroughly learned the language; has become conversant with all their strange and odd characteristics to a greater extent than almost any other American. The simple, direct, straight-forward style in which Dr. Colman has written this book makes it entertaining and fascinating as well as profitable reading throughout.

The book is beatifully printed in large, clear type, and is illustrated with fifteen fine engravings from photographs of persons, places and objects characteristic of China. In one handsome royal octavo volume of 212 pages, appropriately bound in extra cloth, with Chinese side stamp, $1.75, net.

THE DAUGHTER:Her Health, Education and Wedlock.HOMELY SUGGESTIONS TO MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS CONCERNING CHILDHOOD, MAIDENHOOD, WIFEHOOD AND MOTHERHOOD.

By WILLIAM M. CAPP, M.D., Philadelphia.

This valuable little volume belongs to a most important class of books, and it is everywhere recognized as one of the very best. Beautifully printed, large, clear type, 12mo, 150 pages, handsomely bound in extra cloth, $1.00, net.

"A clear, practical and wholesome volume of hygienic suggestions, without prudery on the one hand, and without technical or unnecessary professional minuteness on the other. The author's purpose is high, and his achievement helpful."—The Sunday-School Times.

CONSUMPTION!How to Prevent It and How to Live with It.ITS NATURE, CAUSES, PREVENTION, AND THE MODE OF LIFE, CLIMATE, EXERCISE, FOOD AND CLOTHING, NECESSARY FOR ITS CURE.

By N. S. DAVIS, Jr., A.M., M.D.,

Professor of Principles and Practice of Medicine in Chicago Medical College, etc., etc.

A plain, practical treatise, thoroughly readable and scientifically accurate. 12mo, 143 pages, extra cloth, 75 cents, net.

THE ST. LOUIS WEEKLY MEDICAL REVIEW says: "He is very thorough in his discussion of the subject, and the practical hints which he gives are of real worth and value. His directions are given in such a manner as to make life enjoyable to a consumptive patient and not a burden, as is too frequently the case."

LONGMANS, GREEN & CO.'S NEW BOOKS.

A NEW POETICAL WORK BY THE LATE EARL OF LYTTON.

MARAH.

By OWEN MEREDITH.

Crown 8vo, cloth extra, gilt top, $1.50.

"The wealth of imagination, the opulence of the poet's vocabulary, and the art with which he vivifies his own weird impressions, affect the reader almost equally. 'Marah' is a volume of true and often noble poetry, and must add to the well-earned fame of the author of 'Lucile.'"—New York Tribune.

"It is one of the most remarkable volumes of verse we have had submitted to us for some time. Remarkable because characteristic. They reveal the man. The felicities of thought and dainty phrase contained in the volume are amongst the daintiest Owen Meredith has given us."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

MR. HAGGARD'S NEW STORY. READY APRIL 29.

NADA THE LILY.

By H. RIDER HAGGARD,

Author of "She," "Allan Quatermain," etc., etc. With 23 full-page illustrations by C. H. M. KERR. 12mo, cloth, ornamental, $1.00.

*In this book Mr. Haggard has returned to South Africa, the scene of his greatest successes, and has produced a book that will rival in interest "She" and "Allan Quatermain." All who have read the latter book cannot fail to be interested in the deeds of that doughty fighter "Umslopogaas." In "Nada the Lily" we have an account of his early life up to the time of his meeting with Allan Quatermain.

A NEW STORY BY MRS. WALFORD.

RECENT AND FORTHCOMING PUBLICATIONS.

The Life of George Mason of Virginia, 1726-1792.

Edited by KATE MASON ROWLAND. Including his Speeches, Public Papers and Correspondence. With an introduction by General Fitzhugh Lee. With portrait of Mason and fac-simile of the Bill of Rights. 2 vols., 8vo, $8.00.

"Mason's great labors may not be as widely established in the public mind as those of some others of the same period, because he persistently declined public positions in the Federal councils, where his conspicuous talents would easily have kept him in the front rank of public knowledge and esteem. In the hearts of the students of his country's history, his name and fame occupy a place second to none."—Extract from the Introduction.

The Life of Thomas Paine.

With a History of His Literary, Political and Religious Career in America, France and England. By MONSIEUR DANIEL CONWAY, author of "Omitted Chapters of History Disclosed in the Life and Papers of Edmund Randolph," etc. To which is added a sketch of Paine by William Cobbett, hitherto unpublished. Illustrated. 2 vols., 8vo, $5.00.

No real biography of Paine has ever appeared. The so-called Lives of Paine have been mainly the controversial works of pamphleteers, turning chiefly on his religious heresies. Mr. Conway has personally searched such records in Europe and America, and has obtained from these fresh light, not only on Paine, but on various eminent figures in American and European history with whom he was associated. A large amount of unpublished correspondence is included.

The New Illustrated National Dictionary of the English Language.

With an appendix of Abbreviations, Foreign Words and Phrases, List of Geographical Names, Scripture Proper Names, Forms of Addresses, etc. With 350 engravings. 16mo, 75 cents.

Pratt Portraits: Sketches in a New England Suburb.

By ANNA FULLER. 16mo, $1.25.

A History of Greece.

By EVELYN ABBOTT, M.A., LL.D., Fellow of Balliol College, Oxford, author of "Pericles and the Golden Age of Athens." Part II. From the Beginning of the Ionian Revolt to the Thirty Years' Peace, 500-445 B.C. 8vo, $2.25.

The author expects to complete his work in four volumes, but each volume will cover a distinct period of history, and will be complete in itself.

"It is the work of a painstaking scholar and an acute writer, who evidently enriches his page with the fruits of broad and conscientious study. The style of the book is easy for the reader, its arrangement lucid, its references to authorities ample."—Chicago Standard.

A fresh impression of Volume I. has also been issued.

Materialism and Physiology of the Nervous System.

By WILLIAM H. THOMSON, M.D., Professor of Diseases of the Nervous System in the University College. Illustrated. 16mo, 75 cents.

FICTION, FACT AND FANCY SERIES.

No. 3 Now Ready.

THE GERMAN EMPEROR AND HIS EASTERN NEIGHBORS.

By POULTNEY BIGELOW. Interesting personal notes of the Emperor's boyhood and education are given by his old playmate, together with a description of the Emperor's army, his course and policy since accession, and the condition of affairs on the Russian and Roumanian frontiers. All these facts have been obtained by personal observation.

12mo, Cloth, Gilt Title, Etc., 75 Cents.

ALSO, IN THE SAME SERIES.

MERRY TALES. By MARK TWAIN. 12mo, bound in fine cloth, gilt titles, 75 cents.

This volume contains some of Mark Twain's most entertaining sketches, of which several have not appeared before in book-form. Of the latter are his personal reminiscences of the war in "The History of a Campaign that Failed;" a short story entitled "Luck," and his popular farce, "Meisterschaft."

SELECTED POEMS BY WALT WHITMAN. 12mo, bound in fine cloth, gilt titles, 75 cents.

The edition of Walt Whitman's "Selected Poems," chosen and edited by Arthur Stedman, was in the binder's hands at the time of his death. The poet occupied himself, shortly before that event, in giving his last wishes and final approval with respect to its publication.

Any bookseller, who will answer this advertisement and mention this paper, will receive, free of charge, a sample copy of this new series, and a supply of attractive show-cards.

A NEW BOOK BY DR. BRIGGS.

THE BIBLE, THE CHURCH AND THE REASON: The Three Great Fountains of Divine Authority. By Prof. CHARLES A. BRIGGS, D.D. Crown 8vo, $1.75.

In order to set forth more fully the views expressed in his recent inaugural address, Dr. Briggs has written this volume, which aims principally to define his position with regard to the validity of the Church and the Reason as sources of divine authority. The other subjects discussed are the Higher Criticism, the Inerrancy of Scripture, Biblical History and the Messianic Ideal.

THE GOVERNOR,

And Other Stories. By GEORGE A. HIBBARD. Cloth, $1.00; paper, 50 cents.

The best of Mr. Hibbard's popular magazine stories of recent years are included in this volume. Mr. Howells refers to Mr. Hibbard's work as having "a certain felicity of execution and a certain ideal of performance which are not common."

ACROSS THE PLAINS,

With Other Essays and Memories. By ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON. 12mo, $1.25.

Especial interest attaches to this volume by reason of the autobiographic character of several of the essays, while the others, "Fontainebleau," "The Lantern Bearers," "The Old Pacific Capital," "Dreams," "Beggars," etc., will rank with the author's finest work in this field of literature.

THE DUCHESS OF ANGOULÊME

And the Two Restorations. From the French of IMBERT DE SAINT-AMAND. Famous Women of the French Court. 12mo, with portrait, $1.25.

"One of the most famous of the chronicles in which Saint-Amand has pictured 'The Famous Women of the French Court.'"—Philadelphia Record.

"Walter Graham, Statesman."

"The professional novel reader," says the Philadelphia Inquirer, "who has grown weary of the average American story, will find something entirely different in 'Walter Graham, Statesman.'" To get out of old ruts is not only refreshing but sometimes absolutely necessary to preserve the clearness of our vision, it is therefore that we recommend to your careful consideration "Walter Graham, Statesman," of whom, to put the whole matter briefly in the language of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, "Evidently the writer knows what he is talking about."

In Cloth, 12mo, 602 Pages, $1.50.
